

On July 9, 2017, in Krakow, the transnational serial site "The Venetian Works of Defence between 16th and 17th Centuries: Stato da Terra – Western Stato da Mar", was inscribed on the UNESCO World Heritage List; the site consists of six cities in Italy, Croatia and Montenegro, namely Bergamo (promoter and leader), Peschiera del Garda, Palmanova, Zadar, Sibenik and Kotor.

The Permanent Secretariat of the site, which is located at the Municipality of Bergamo and the Territorial Area of Bergamo of the Regional School Office of Lombardy, propose to the teachers of primary and secondary schools a training course on the subject.

UNESCO requires that the tangible and intangible assets that are to be protected for future generations must not be considered as museums, but must be lived by local communities with knowledge, involvement and awareness. Since UNESCO recommends above all the involvement of school population, the primary purpose of this course consists both of a teacher training program inspired by the principles of the protection of the existing cultural heritage and the promotion of education and culture, elements that can and must represent a frontier of peace among the peoples.

The objectives that the course intends to reach are:

- To divulge the purposes of UNESCO;
- To promote information and integrate teachers' knowledge on the sites of the serial and transnational site "The Venetian Works of Defence between 16th and 17th Centuries: Stato da Terra-Western Stato da Mar";
- To promote information and integrate teachers' knowledge on some of the UNESCO sites in Europe, particularly similar to that of the Venetian Fortresses;
- To promote the creation of groups in schools that can contribute to the training of the person, the citizen and his/her professional status;
- To activate projects in schools that can develop -interdisciplinarily - historical, artistic and cultural aspects in a broader sense, including, therefore and not only, enogastronomic and naturalistic peculiarities.
